Precautions at Trial of Alleged Goebel Conspirators.

Two Hondred Turned Away Because They Could Not Pass Inspection-Uncertain When Case Will Proceed -Defence May Not Be Rendy-Great

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 9.-A special term of the Scott County Circuit Court, ordered by Judge James E Cantrill, at the request of the defendants, for the purpose the War Office that State Secretary Big and-a-half Streets southwest, to protest of trying Caleb Powers, Henry E. Youtsey, Richard Combs, John Davis, and Harlan Whitaker, accused of complicity in the assassination of William Goebel, was begun today. Whether the trials will proceed is yet a matter of doubt. The Commonwealth has answered that It is ready, but the defence will not give answer until tomor-

Asked tonight what the answer would be, ex-Gov. John Young Brown, chief counsel for the defence, replied: "We hope to answer ready, but until we have had further consultation with our witnesses we cannot tell what our answer will be."

There were no ur usual incidents attending the session today save the searching of every person who entered the court house when the bell rang at 9:15 o'clock, announcing the readiness of Judge Cantrill to open the term. The throng of attorneys, witnesses, spectators, and correspondents responding encountered a barrier of rope and deputy sheriffs at the foot of the staircase.

It was announced that Judge Cantrill had ordered that no man be allowed to enter the court room with a revolver. Fully two hundred were turned away. Among them was Judge George Denny, of counsel for the defence, whose passage at words with Colonel Campbell, at Frankfort, came near inciting a riot during the examining trial

Ex-Gov. John Young Brown indignantly protested against being searched, and later had a heated argument with Judge trill concerning the issuance of orders which he declared "unconstitutional

The defence presented an array of eight-een attorneys headed by ex-Governor Brown, ex-Representative W. C. Owens, Theodore Hallem, who was one of Goebel'a bitterest personal enamies; Mayor R. W. Nelson, of Newport: Judge George Denny, and Judge Thomas Simms.

The representatives of the Commonwealth are Robert B. Franklin, Prosecuting Attornoy for this district; Col. T. C. Campbell, of New York; Judge Ben Williams, Judge John K. Hendricks, Samuel Crossland, Victor Bradley, and Willard Mitchell.

The case of Caleb Foxe s was frat called. Powers looked thin and pale but seemed in good spirits. The panel of thirty jurors was called. Only two, these on account of advanced age, were excused. The Commonwealth's list of ninety-seven witnesses was called. Fifty-one responded to their names. Attachments were ordered for the names. Attachments were ordered for the absentees. Thereupon the Commonwealth answered ready at 11:30 o'clock, and Judge declared court adjourned until

When order was obtained in the after noon Mr. Brown, for the defence, stated that it had not had suff tent time to consult a great number of witnesses and asked that an adjournment be taken until 9 a.m. tomorrow in order that some knowledge of what could be proved by such witnesses could be obtained. The request was granted. Since adjournment atterneys on both sides have been busy in their quarters at the Wellington Hotel examining witnesses, of whom all told there are fully 250.

Under orders from Judge Cantrill, W. H. Culton and Robert Nozks, two of the accused, who have been in custody at Frankfort, were brought here this after noon to be used as witnesses for the Commonwealth. In the event of an answer of ready by the defence the first move will we to demur to the indictment on the grounds that no principal was specified. It will be at least Wednesday before a can be obtained

CHINESE TRADE AFFECTED. Danger of Cotton Goods and Kero

sene Famine in the Empire.

NEW YORK, June 9.-Merchants here say that unless the disturbances in China are soon put down there will be a cotton cloth and kerosene oil famine in China, The average Chinaman goes clothed in cotton, and the cotton cloth comes in a large measure from the United where all shipments of cotton goods have been held up until further orders.

The situation at the principal ports in China where American imports are rethat we were not going before the coun-try on 16 to 1 as the main issue. If I had goods for the present. It is impossible to forward goods to the interior, and the storage facilities at the ports are already well nigh exhausted. Furthermore native firms are not anxious to buy goods now, and until they get a clearer understanding of the situation in the Flowery Kingdom, American firms are not anxious to fill orders from China.

Consequently trade between this country and China has been practically tied up. Our principal export to China besides cotton cloth is kerosene oil. Besides the we send over every year large quantities of machinery, flour, sugar, window glass, lamps, clocks, and woolen goods. The value of our cotton cloth sent to China in 1895 was not quite $4,000,000. The value of that exported in 1899 was a little over

Last year we shipped to China 41,000,000 gallons of kerosene oil. Until news of more settled conditions reaches this country shipment of oil exports will be greatly cut down, if not entirely shut off. At present no cotton goods at all are being shipped. As for other articles, they are being shipped to foreign houses doing business in China, but not to native buyers. Judge Kohlsaat holds that the faith of the It is not believed that native firms will rediate contracts, but exporters are taking no chances.

The result of all this here has been to affect the cotton cloth trade more than anything else. Prices have been reduced recently, but this has not caused trade to race up much, and now they are talking of shutting down all the mil's of Fall River. General machinery makers are also affected, as are the makers of American locomotives.

He said in part:

"This meeting has been called solely in the interests of Mr. Pairbrother to protest against the action of the Board of Education in falling to reappoint him as is Mr. Baumhoff sending out letters to the supervising principal of the Fourth the supervising principal of the Fourth division of public schools and to urge the reconsideration of that action. We learn from the newspapers that Mr. Fairbrother is no longer the incumbent of his former position. This, we believe, is due to the fact that this section has not, for the first time in the history of the District, a representative on the board.

This meeting has not been called at the instigation of Mr. Fairbrother and he knew nothing of its being called until today. For the last twenty years he has been an instructor in this division, and these who know him best are his pupils, who will be given an opportunity later to speak of the regard in which they hold him. This meeting will confine itself to a protest against point Mr. Fairbrother, the expression of Speaking of a meeting of the Mount Pleasant Citizens' Association, which the manner of the appointment the members of the Board of Education was discussed, he said: "It was the sen-timent of the association that the President of the Unted States had about as much right to appoint the members of the Board of Education in the city of Washington as he had in any other city of the Union. It is a question of home rule, and in accord with this principle only the Commissioneers of the District have a right to make such appointments. The question of home rule is involved in the case of Mr. Fair-brother. The Board of Education should appoint the man in this division whom the people of this division want. That this has not been done is shown by this meeting. The board has made a mistake. I advise that the resolutions to be adopted set forth that it is the sense of this meeting that the board has made a mistake, and has interfered with the rights and to take command of a regiment of British wishes of this locality, and that they be requested to reconsider their decision. It will be time enough to protest our indignation if this be not done. To have removed Mr. Fairbrother without investigation was a mistake; to have removed him have left New Orleans with 6,399 mules, being the heaviest shipments made of mules since the beginning of this traffic.

KOHLSAAT'S BEER DECISION.

Accepted as Final by the Commis sioner of Internal Revenue.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has determined to accept as final the decision by Judge Kohlsaat, of Chicago, of the United States Court of Appeals of that district, in the case of the Government against the Manhattan Brewing Company for having used the old 71-2 per cent discount stamps on beer after the passage of the Dingley law.

Prior to the passage of the Dingley law four years ago, the Government allowed a discount of 7% per cent on beer stamps, which were valued at $1 per barrel. The brewers claimed that in consequence of spoiled beer they were entitled to a discount, and they got it in the shape of a reduction which made the net cost of stamp 9212 cents.

Many of them had a stock of these stamps on hand when the Dingley law was passed. That measure omitted the dis-count feature, and made no provision for bargains in beer stamps. The Internal Revenue Department held that the 921-2 cent stamps were not good for use on beer under the provisions of the new law. The brewers who had stamps on hand, objected ing, and took the case to the court. Now Judge Kohlsaat holds that the faith of the Government is pledged to accept the stamps at par, and they must be so accepted. It is this decision which has been accepted by Commissioner Wilson.

ST. LOUIS STRIKE RENEWED.

Callure of Transit Company to Keep Pledges Alleged. ST. LOUIS, July 9 .- The Union street car employes and the Transit Company, in nass meeting this afternoon, resolved to declare on again the strike which was declared off on July 2. Affidavits were read showing that the Transit Company had broken its agreement by hiring non-union men since July 2. An explanatory letter denying in part the charges of bad fact: was received from the Transit Company and read.

Attorney F. Lehmann, of the Transit empany, addressed the meeting in an en deavor to explain the conduct of the com priny. The strike took immediate effect. The boycott is to go into force Tuesday morning.

At times the meeting was riotous, the men exclusively from the list of former employes furnished the company by the grievance committee Mr. Lehmann said: "If other men have been hired it has been without the consent of the president

tions will be discharged?"

'Then fire Baumhoff."

Another question was: "If the company to come and go to work?"

"I suppose he fecis bound to keep faith ith men whom he has offered positions." At this there was great laughter and hissing Mr. Lehmann soon afterward left the hall, when the resolution declaring the strike again was passed by a manimous vete amid wild applause. Wagons and busses made their appearance on the streets as soon as the action of the meeting was known, many people riding in them in preference to street cars.

PROFESSOR IN ERROR.

A certain professor of a northern university was reproaching his students with their tardiness in arriving at his classroom in the morning. "Gentlemen," said he, by way of stimulating their laxity, "the Roman youths swam three times across the Tiber before commencing their morning studies." "What are you smiling at, sir?" demanded the professor, of a youth who was evidently tickled by the recital. "Well, sir." said the thoughtful student, "I was just thinking that if the Roman youths swam three times across the Tiber they must have left their clothes on the wrong side of the river." This student had a quick perception in detecting the error of the professor; so have the people of Washington, they can recitly perceive the difference between an inferior grade of beer and the high grade beers of Heurich's brew. When some cheap beer is served instead of Maerzen, Senate, or Lager the people immediately detect the difference of quality. The council held two sessions today and discussed various matters. The national conference of religious education held its final session today. Dr. F. B. NISSEN'S PERILOUS TRIP.

Shoots the Whirlpool Rapids in a Small Bont. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 9.-This afternoon Peter Nissen, of Chicago, made a trip through the Whirlpoel Rapids to the Whirlpool in a small boat twenty feet Loans and discolong, six feet beam and four feet deep. When Nissen came here he gave the name of "Boweer," while his boat was named the "Fool Killer." His trip today was wonderfully successful and he has won all the honor accompanying such affairs.

He has spent ten days in trying to get his bout in the river and has come in contact with the authorities of two countries who tried to drive him off, but he was determined to make the trip. At 2 o'clock this afternoon his boat was towed from the Canadian to the New York shore, stopping midway between the falls and the rapids. Nissen was backward about going to Canada, fearing arrest, so he went down a ladder on this side and took a row boat to his craft.

He spent two hours in preparing the boat for the trip and at 4 o'clock was towed out into midstream by a boy in a When the line was cast off Nissen United States today. In connection with drifted down with the current, but was caught by an eddy on the Canadian side and held three-quarters of an hour until the boat again picked him up and took him in tow. When cast off the second time he took the main current, and was soon sweeping into the rapids. As he neared the bridges he put on his cork jacket and took hold of a life line in his boat. Now and then he waved to the crowds His boat took the first waves in nice style, it rode high in the water and he went quite a distance without even getting wet. When he reached the wave where wet. When he reached the wave Captain Webb lost his life the struck him a terrible blow, and thought he was swamped. Way thought he was swamped way wave broke over him and from this on his boat rode sideways and this brought the force of the water full against him. By this time it was a continuous tossing, but at no time did the craft capsize It was so heavily weighted that it held a good position and when at 5:02 he shot in-to the whiripool. Nissen was still in the boat. After it had proceeded across the pool he was seen to stand up. He drifted around the pool about forty feet out from the Canadian shore. He went around the pool four times and his experience was thrilling. The first time around he saw a bey fishing on a rock and at-tempted to throw a line to him. The boy was so frightened that he did not get the line. Then Nissen drifted on, More than once he was caught in deep whirls and his bout stood on end repeatedly. The water in the river was very high and this had brought a large amount of driftwood logs and timbers into the pool. Right into the midst of this Nissen and his little craft were swept. Finally he got free of the debris and was carried three boys swam out and took hold of his line and towed him ashore at 6 o'clock, after an hour in the pool. He was cold from the exposure. After warm-ing at a fire he was helped up the bank and driven to his hotel. He left his boat in the whiripool tonight.

JEFFRIES' BAD ARM. Will Delay ells Meeting Ruhlin Until

After September 1. NEW YORK, July 9.-If Gus. Ruhlin wants to get a chance to gain the champlouship he will have to wait until after September 1. Jim Jeffries decided this much today by refusing to give Ruhlin his word that he will be able to meet him en or about August 25, the date which the champion sugested when he answered Ruh-lin's defi a few weeks ago. The boiler-maker has been compelled to take this stand because his left arm, which he injured in his combat with Tom Sharkey las fall, is still in a bad way, with the pros-pects of it not being fit by August 25. For this reason alone, Jeffrice says, he does not want to imperil his chances of a victory by going into a ring with such a formidable opponent as Ruhlin.

A SUBMARINE VOLCANO.

Divers From a British Warship En counter Boiling Water.

LONDON, July 10 .- A despatch to the sava that while the cruiser Ringarooma was practicing off the New Hebrides she lost a torpedo. Three divers attempted to descend to recover the torpedo, but they encountered an active submarine vol-cano. The water below the surface was boiling. The men bled from the ears and and their diving suits were
